Voters Decide Two Questions

Does Palm Springs need and want an airport?
Does the airport help me?

Those are the only two questions you will have to answer tomorrow at the polls. Everything else is explanation or a side-issue.

Palm Springs needs an airport, not only for future growth, but for its very existence at present. In this air age, Palm Springs is competing for its position as the nation's number one desert resort community with many others, each aggressively soliciting the tourist dollars.

Take away the airport and for practical purposes we might just as well be served only by dirt roads.

Take away the airport and other resort communities with adequate airport facilities will take away our tourist dollars.

Does the airport help me?

Every job here, directly and indirectly, is tied to the tourist dollars brought in and spent. $22 million of these dollars were brought in by air transportation last year.

Every tax bill of every permanent resident here is affected by outside dollars brought in and spent here. Broaden the tax base with these outside dollars and you hold down or even reduce the individual tax load. Reduce or kill these outside dollars, as you surely will without an airport, and you'll feel it in your tax bill. It's just that simple.

Certainly Palm Springs needs and wants an airport. And just as certainly an airport helps every one of us.

When, just as certainly, the airport acquisition plan offered to you tomorrow is a good business proposition in every aspect, the package is one you have to buy in selfish self-interest.

With a two-thirds "Yes" vote needed tomorrow, it won't be enough to be for the issue, and stay at home.

We urge you to vote, and vote "Yes."

Six Major Accidents Reported in Desert

INDIO—Six traffic accidents involving major personal injury kept California Highway Patrol officers busy in the Palm Springs desert area.

The series started at 7:15 Friday evening when Mrs. Cheris Schermer, 52, of West Covina, attempted a left turn at Dillon Road and Indian Avenue. Officers said she turned in front of a car driven by Ransom Barnes, 66, of Banning, attempting to avoid a collision and Barnes hit the parked vehicle of Otis Wingate of Palm Springs.

Mrs. Schermer, Robert Schermer, 53, and Barnes, all were hospitalized with major injuries.

Next came Robert Perault, 33, of Compton. While towing a camper truck, his station wagon suffered a blowout which threw the vehicle out of control and went off Highway 99 near Twenty-nine Palms at 2:35 a.m. Saturday. Injured was a passenger, sleeping in the station wagon—Manuel Machado 34 of Compton, who is recovering from major injuries at Desert Hospital.

Officers said the third in the series occurred at 11 p.m. Saturday, sending Leemon Scruggs, 45, an Indian rancher to Casita Hospital in Indio after his car rolled over three times in the vicinity of Dillon Road near Sunnyslope.

New Storm Hits Upper Midwest, Snow Expected

By United Press International
A new snowstorm rocketed into the upper Midwest today powered by winds expected to reach gale strength on the thawing Great Lakes.

Michigan and Wisconsin braced for up to a half-foot of snow and the U.S. Weather Bureau warned of sleet and snow accompanying 40 miles an hour gales on Lakes Huron, Erie, St. Clair and Michigan.

Tornadoes Sunday scraped Missouri and Arkansas and hovered over southern Illinois. The Ozark twisters killed a woman and injured her husband and 10 others at a West Palms, Mo., prayer meeting. At least 33 other persons were reported injured in Missouri and Arkansas.

Investigating officers said Scruggs apparently fell asleep while driving.

A reported "blackout" accounted for accident number four when Linda Murray, 53, Desert Hot Springs lost control of her vehicle while driving north on Palm Road north of Second Street. Officers said she swerved to the wrong side of the road and collided with a car driven by Frederick Alexander of North Hollywood.

Passengers Samuel Stanfield and Henry Zimm of Bellflower received injuries as did Natalie Furman, Desert Hot Springs, a passenger in Mrs. Murray's car. All were treated at Desert Hospital.

Auto Demolished
At 2:25 a.m. Sunday, James Clark, 23, of Coachella fell asleep while driving south on Highway 111 near Avenue 53 and rolled his car three times. The car is a total loss, Clark is in serious condition in Casita Hospital.

Another "unsafe turn" made by Merced Maganas, 53, Coachella, resulted in injury to Juan B. Hernandez, Indio at 2:30 a.m. Sunday. Officers reported that Maganas made an illegal left hand turn into a private driveway, causing the following Hernandez car to crash. Also injured was Pablo Saucedo, Indio. All injuries were treated at Casita Hospital and all are apparently recovering.

HOME NEED CITED IN CENSUS REPORT

WASHINGTON — UPI — The Census Bureau reports that one out of every six American families lived last year in dilapidated housing or lacked full plumbing facilities.

Nevertheless, housing in this country improved appreciably in the 1950's.

These were the chief conclusions of a report released Sunday on the 1960 housing census, taken along with the population count last spring.

The bureau found that 83 per cent — or five out of six — of all occupied nondilapidated houses and apartments contained full

Castro Police Repel Attack

HAVANA — UPI — Police guards foiled an armed attack by an anti-Castro band on the Soviet Embassy residence shortly before Maj. William A. Morgan of Toledo, Ohio, died before a firing squad for allegedly aiding the enemies of Premier Fidel Castro, diplomatic sources reported.

The incident was seen as another indication of mounting opposition to the Castro regime in spite of harsh reprisals.

Dr. M. W. Addes Died Sunday

Dr. Addes is survived by his widow, Mrs. Elsie Addes, 732 Palo Verde Avenue.

50% Turnout Is Predicted for Special Election

By PEYTON CANARY

An estimated 50 to 55 per cent of the qualified 6,636 registered Palm Springs voters is expected to turn out tomorrow to the city's six consolidated polling places to decide the Airport acquisition here.

"With a big turnout at the polls, we feel confident of victory, since sentiment has been overwhelming for the Airport acquisition," Airport Acquisition Executive Committee chairman F. Gillar Boyd said this morning.

He warned that "a light vote might leave the conclusion in doubt."

The polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. for the Airport Bond vote. The issue may decide the next decade for Palm Springs, some air travel authorities predict.

Two Thirds Margin Needed
A slim victory margin is expected from the 3,300 to 3,700 expected voters. The bond issue election requires a two-thirds majority to authorize the city issuance of a $3 million bond issue for purchase of Agua Caliente tribal lands at the Airport site.

Calls by the Palm Springs Junior Woman's Club and members of the Palm Springs Real Estate Board indicate a majority of voters will approve the issue.

Turnout Is Vital
However, approval is probably dependent on at least a 50 per cent voter turnout. Both groups will aid by phone calls throughout the day, and with transportation to the polls which has been arranged. (See box).

The Airport Acquisition Executive Committee concluded in its meeting this morning that everything that can be done to prompt the issue has been done now.

"We have detailed the issue and the problems involved in meeting them," Chairman F. Gillar Boyd said.

Obligation To Vote
"We have answered all the questions which citizens have presented. We have made definite commitments to the community as to the financing and operation of the Airport. We intend to see they are followed," Boyd explained.

"The chips are in the pot," he said. "We all feel that the issue will be decided on how many of the citizens recognize their obligation to vote." Boyd emphasized.

The issue essentially is whether Palm Springs will issue $3 million worth of bonds to begin purchase of the Palm Springs Airport site. Involved are a 594.54 acre total of tribal lands.

Purchase Explained
Allotted lands which are deemed necessary for Airport purchases total 120 acres. An additional 80 acres of allotted lands "would be desirable," a city spokesman said. For the tribal lands, the assessed price is $2,979,000. For allotted lands, $956,000.

Federal grant in aid reimbursement—54 per cent—is expected to return to the city approximately $980,000 from the first purchases. Additional sums would be eligible for reimbursement later.

In addition, purchase and stabilization of the Airport is expected to gain Palm Springs a weather station, which would be federally financed.

Steinberg Urges Approval
Lionel Steinberg, immediate past vice-chairman of the State Democratic Committee and incumbent member of the State Board of

TRANSPORTATION TO POLLS OFFERED FOR TUESDAY VOTE

Transportation has been offered to all persons wishing a ride to the polling places in tomorrow's special election in Palm Springs. Rides can be arranged by calling as follows:

Number of the Palm Springs Real Estate Board is 325-3454.

Muriel Fulton, chairman of the Real Estate Board's airport subcommittee, may be called at 325-2255.

Phone number for the office of Board president Mrs. Theresa Press is 325-5282.

Transportation may be arranged through any of these numbers.

In addition, members of the Junior Woman's Club will begin making phone checks before noon tomorrow. Persons called may arrange travel to and from the polls through these women, or through members of the Real Estate Board who will also make calls.

Agriculture, added endorsement as a farm operator of the vote bond tomorrow.

"It is extremely important that the Airport be expanded and enlarged here," Steinberg told The Desert Sun. He termed Palm Springs "one of the outstanding winter fruit and vegetable centers of the United States," even though actual farm acreage is located southeast of here.

"A major airport is essential for buyers and processors of agricultural commodities, because of the time elements involved," Steinberg explained. Top buyers and shippers from eastern and northwestern markets must fly in and out quickly to assess market potentials, he stated.

Steinberg's statement followed other urgings here by hotel men, store owners, and independent businessmen as well as numerous wage workers that Palm Springs basic tourism is dependent on easy accessibility by air.

Rosie Netcher's Home Burgled

The last of the "Dollie Sisters" had her home at 1200 Vista Vespero burglarized Saturday night to the tune of $1540 in cash and jewelry.

Mrs. Rosie Dollie Netcher reported to Palm Springs police that sneak thieves entered through an unlocked door and made off with a total of $240 in cash; a man's wristwatch valued at $300 and a 2 carat man's diamond ring worth $1,000.

Sharing the loss with Mrs. Netcher were her house guests, George Allardice and Mrs. Lillian Hogan.

Mobutu's Troops Open Offensive Near Oriental

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo — Maj. Gen. Joseph Mobutu's forces captured three companies of pro-Lumumba troops in an offensive near the Oriental Province border, the Congolese Foreign Ministry announced today.

Mobutu's long-expected drive was coupled with reports from Stanleyville that Antoine Gizenga was being eased out as boss of Oriental Province, which is in the hands of followers of slain ex-Premier Patrice Lumumba.

The announcement said one Lumumbist company was trapped in the town of Mondombe, about 300 miles southeast of Coquilhatville in Equatorial Province.

Mobutu's force of 1,200 troops then pushed on to the town of Ikela, 40 miles to the south, and captured and disarmed two more companies. Dispatches from the bush country said his troops had captured the Lumumbist stronghold.

Gains Not Told

The government did not disclose how many troops were captured by Mobutu's forces. A Congolese company ranges from 50 to 200 men.

Mobutu's troops have been in the area for weeks to prevent Lumumbist troops from pushing further into Equatorial Province.

The communique came as all Congolese leaders, except Gizenga, announced at their "summit" conference in Tananarive on the island of Madagascar that they have agreed to form a confederation of Congolese states.

The agreement was expected to end the long struggle between warring political factions for control of the Congo. It also was a personal triumph of the confederation idea of Katanga President Moise Tshombe over the unitary state advocated by Lumumbists.

Take Over Reported

Informed sources said there are indications that Jean Foster Manzikala is gradually taking over from the Communist-inclined Gizenga as boss of Oriental.

Manzikala, a moderate who holds the official post of Oriental Province premier, was reported seeking to start economic and financial talks with the government of Congolese President Joseph Kasavubu.

If Manzikala is about to take over control of Oriental Province, sources said it would pave the way for Oriental's possible participation in the new Congo confederation.

Manzikala is considered a more moderate politician than Gizenga and has called on Europeans several times to stay at their jobs to save the province's economy.

Seek Congo Confederation

TANANARIVE, Malagasy Republic — Western diplomats expressed hope today the newly formed "confederation" of Congo states would end the threat of Communism in the Congo and bring stability to the strife-torn nation.

Congolese leaders attending a "summit" conference here agreed Sunday to establish a loose confederation of eight sovereign states on tribal lines to replace the Congo republic.

Joseph Kasavubu, president of the central Congolese government, was unanimously selected president of the new confederation, with the capital to remain in Leopoldville.

Five Charged As Russ Spies Go On Trial

LONDON — UPI — British charged today that a spy ring of five persons, headed by a Russian posing as a Canadian citizen, stole vital naval secrets and transmitted them to Moscow from the cellar of a shabby suburban bungalow.

The FBI in Washington has identified two of the defendants as Americans.

At the bar of justice in the famous No. 1 court of the Old Bailey three men and two women were on trial in Britain's most sensational spy case since Klaus Fuchs was convicted of giving atomic secrets to the Communists in 1950.

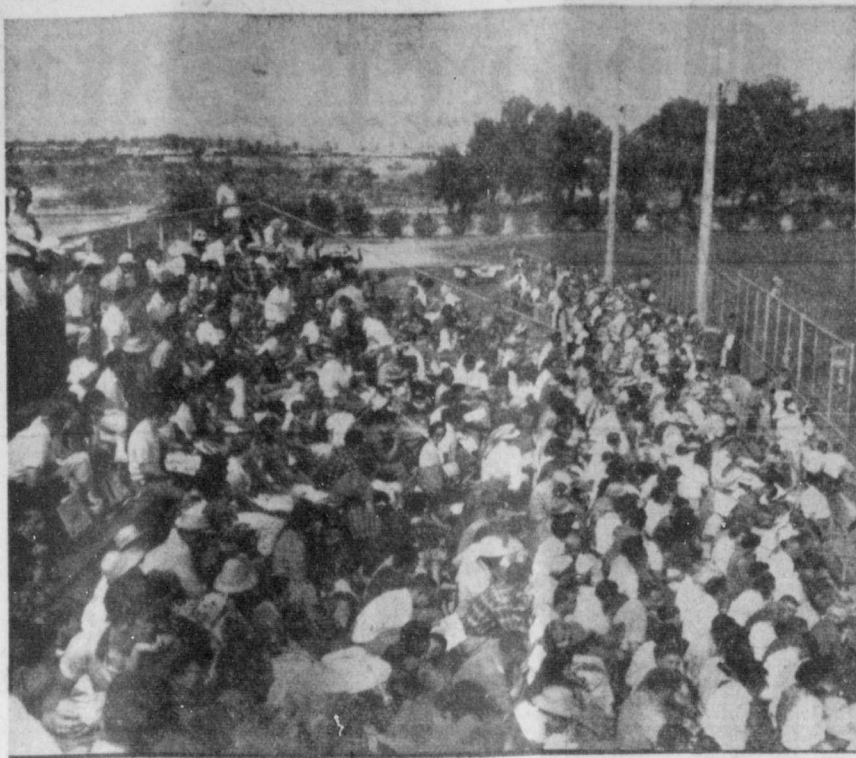

All the defendants pleaded innocent, a jury of 12 men was chosen with the traditional speed of British justice and the attorney general of the realm, Sir Mianingham-Buller, opened the case for the crown.

Cloak-and-Dagger Story He unfolded to the court a cloak-and-dagger story of how British counter espionage agents followed a winding trail through London's streets.

It brought them at last, he said, to a cottage in the suburb of Ruislip occupied by a book seller named Peter John Kroger and his wife, Helen.

This place, Sir Reginald told the jury and Britain's lord chief justice, Lord Parker, who chose to preside over the case, contained a powerful radio transmitter hidden under the kitchen floor.

"It was suitable for transmitting direct to Moscow," he said, and added that the cottage also seemed to be banking headquarters for the alleged spy ring. In the somewhat rundown cottage, guarded by double and triple locks, Sir Reginald said British agents found $6,000 in American $20 bills, 2,563 American $1 bills, 2,030 worth of American travelers checks and some British travelers checks.

Californian Sought for Police Killing

MARBLE HILL, Mo. — UPI — Police pressed an air and ground search today for a California desperado accused with two other men of killing a policeman, wounding two other officers and beating a farmer in their cross-country flight from jail.

But tornadoes and heavy rain masked the escape route for the fugitive, Douglas Wayne Thompson, 27, Bakersfield, who was believed armed with a rifle and a pistol. Authorities also had to turn from searching for Thompson because of tornado damage after coming so close to him Saturday they could hear him rushing away in a river.

Thompson's two companions, Calvin Willie Johnson, 22, and Sammy A. Tucker, 26, Fresno, were captured separately Saturday and charged with first degree murder and felonious assault in the fatal shooting Friday at Herbert Goss, 67, an auxiliary policeman.

One Fugitive Wounded

Johnson was seized at Jackson, Mo., as he waited to get a spare tire for his getaway vehicle. Tucker, wounded three times in a gun battle earlier in the search, surrendered without a struggle at Grassy, Mo., 3 miles from Jackson.

More than 200 policemen, deputies and state patrolmen closed in on Thompson near Grassy Lake late Saturday but he slipped into the Castor River, bloodhounds lost his scent and he continued his escape. Deputies said they were near enough to hear Thompson slashing in the water but could not get a clear shot at him.

GOP Legislators Set For Dispute on Bills

SACRAMENTO — UPI — Three Republican assemblymen prepared today to present the first committee arguments on one of the most disputed questions to face the current legislature.

Should prosecutors have the right to present illegally seized evidence at a narcotics trial?

The arguments were due for presentation at a late afternoon hearing of the Assembly Committee on Criminal Procedure. The committee's agenda include a bill from each Republican that would give prosecutors the right.

Police officers and district attorneys say that they need the right in order to crack down on narcotics peddlers who may escape because of a current restriction laid down by the state Supreme Court in the 1955 Cahan case.

Cahan Case Described

Cahan, a Los Angeles bookmaker, had been convicted on the strength of evidence obtained without a search warrant. The court reversed his conviction, saying that the citizen's constitutional rights against invasion of privacy must be preserved. Therefore, the results of any illegal search and seizure must be made useless to the prosecution.

Committee Chairman John A. O'Connell, D-San Francisco, supports the courts and opposes the three Republican bills. He has charged that they would "encourage lawlessness by policemen."

Behind him stands the promise from Gov. Edmund G. Brown to veto "any legislation, in whatever form, that impinges on the constitutional protections in the area of search and seizure."

The first bill, by Assemblyman Charles Chapel, R-Palos Verdes Estates, would permit introduction of any evidence at a narcotics trial. It is the broadest of the three.

Allen Measure Outlined

The second bill, by Assemblyman Bruce F. Allen, R-Los Gatos, would admit any evidence except that prohibited by the U.S. Constitution. The exception would bar evidence obtained from wiretapping.

The third bill, by Assemblyman Houston I. Flournoy, R-Claremont, would put the greatest restriction on admissible evidence in a narcotics case. His measure would exclude not only the results of a wiretap, but everything except the actual narcotic itself.

Depressed Aid Debate Slated Before Senate

WASHINGTON — UPI — The Senate today debates a $394 million bill to aid depressed areas, and the House gets another substitute for President Kennedy's plan.

Aid for areas of chronic unemployment is one of Kennedy's major legislative goals. He proposed a program of loans intended to import industry to economically depressed areas.

Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., introduced the measure the Senate is considering, but it has been the target of a barrage of amendments seeking to restrict it or shrink the money figure.

No Senate vote was expected before Tuesday night or Wednesday.

In the House, Rep. Robert N. Giaino, D-Conn., planned to introduce a bill similar to the administration measure but also containing a strong "anti-pirating" clause.

Giaino said he was in full accord with the principle behind Kennedy's program, but he argued that greater safeguards were needed to prevent the pirating of industry from one locale to another.

WEEK LAYOFF STARTS FOR 83,000 WORKERS

DETROIT — UPI — More than 83,000 auto workers began a one-week layoff today in another in the long series of production cutbacks by car makers.

New car sales in the first 10 weeks of 1961 have failed to dent the mammoth million-car inventory in auto dealerships across the country and the industry's big three, General Motors, Ford and Chrysler, announced layoffs for this week only at 33 plants.

GM furloughed 58,200 workers, Ford idled 13,400 and Chrysler laid off 11,500.

The layoffs will result in a production drop to about 75,000 units this week, according to Ward's Reports.

The statistical agency pointed out the expected output this week will be some 20 per cent below production for the corresponding week in the recession year of 1958 and 50 per cent below assemblies in the same week last year.

Strike Protection is Needed

Loss of the air service to Palm Springs by Western Air Lines, particularly at this time of year, was unfortunate.

Western pioneered service to this resort area and has been an important factor in the steady growth of Palm Springs. The company's promotional campaigns have contributed much to the popularity of the desert vacationland, especially to residents of the Pacific Northwest.

And company officials report arrangements are being speeded to resume service.

The unauthorized strike to flight engineers in the wake of their jurisdictional dispute with the Air Line Pilots Association points up the need for passage of federal legislation. Bills have been introduced in the last and present sessions of Congress which, if enacted, might have averted the work stoppage which cost the airlines an estimated $5 million daily, furloughed thousands of workers without pay and inconvenience to countless thousands of air travelers.

At issue is a demand by the engineers that they be allowed to form their own union, separate from the Air Line Pilots Association. Service has been resumed by other major lines on the basis of an adjudication plan worked out by President Kennedy—with the assurance of job protection. Western, however, was unwilling to enter into the agreement. Engineers not returning to work immediately were discharged.

While many people are sympathetic with the flight engineers in their jurisdictional dispute, their irresponsible action in halting a great percentage of national and international air travel by walking off the job is inexcusable and may stir Congress to action.

Legislation to avoid such a serious economic loss over an issue of this kind will likely undoubtedly receive the support of an aroused and indignant public.

More Cursed to Give

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Excessive punishment defeats its own purpose. If you riot a child for eating between meals, you can make him a liar and a sneak. If you cut off a man's hand for stealing, he is apt to become much worse than a thief. The principle applies. I think, to General Electric, Westinghouse and the 20-some other manufacturers which were convicted of conspiracy in trade under the anti-trust statutes. They deserved to get whacked—but not to be beaten to a pulp.

Yet this is what goes on. Federal Judge Ganey deals out fines for the companies and imprisonment for many officers. Then the Justice Department, States, cities, agencies like TVA and even persons crowd in with civil suits that mount toward the billions of dollars. Ralph Cordiner, GE chairman and chief executive officer, is hounded from his prized chairmanship of the Business Advisory Council. Robert Paxton, GE president and director, resigns for "ill health." Democratic Senators Howard Cannon of Nevada and Estes Kefauver of Tennessee start inquiries that point to further harassment of the convicted firms.

Richly Deserved

Any, or even several, of these punishments would be richly deserved. Senator Cannon, a member of both the Armed Services and Space committees, is right in looking into possibility of serious damages to the defense budget. Senator Kefauver, a veteran anti-trust prober, may conceivably perform a service if he finds a "pattern" of conspiratorial overcharge. But, after allowing the prosecutors every claim for high-mindedness and public duty, the totality of punishment begins to assume the appearance of grossness and indecency.

Punishment meted out by human beings upon each other has only two permissible purposes. It can be corrective. It can be in the nature of quarantine—to seal off a violent criminal for the protection of his community. But punishment for vengeance, or out of sadism, is more cursed to give than to receive.

Soft-Headed Persons

If these firms are driven to the wall, reduced to insolvency or ineffectiveness, the country and the government will be the big losers. There are many soft-headed persons in our universities, Labor movement and in official positions, who treat corporations as evils of a capitalist society. These persons, like the Communists whom they do not necessarily resemble in other ways, want to see the means of production and wealth in the hands of a people's government. They believe that this would eliminate poverty and put production to the good uses of an equalized society.

This belief ran like a dodging rabbit in and out of last autumn's campaign—now you see it; now you don't. John Kennedy was going to interject the government, or additional governmental control, into half a dozen businesses and local enterprises. Richard Nixon very often agreed to do almost the same things—but do them on a smaller scale. There was, however, one point at which the rival candidates clearly divided. Kennedy was willing to cut oil depletion allowances at the risk of putting many petroleum producers out of business and government into the work of finding oil. Nixon took the opposite position. He was willing to let producers make big fortunes rather than socialize the oil business. To Nixon, it could have been a national calamity to drive this technically prodigious industry to the point of destruction.

Now It's Different

But compare it to the immensity of our ruin if the infinitely more complex electrical equipment industry were punished to any such degree. This country has won its wars, saved its allies, beaten and rehabilitated its foes because we have always had a large, wealthy, progressive industry on call. Today, for the first time, we did not disarm between wars. On the contrary, we have engaged for at least a decade in a weapon-for-weapon race with the Communists who, despite some spectacular achievements, have not been able to out-do us.

They never will—unless, in some fit of folly, such as hamstringing our own industrial strength, we lend them the helping hand.

—Holmes Alexander

STAN DELAPLANE:

This Side of The Sun

By Phat

Now to give out
With some of the stuff
I glean from reading
Notes on the cuff.

First off, let's go with an oldie — two pocket shirts, long an obsession of mine.

THIS NOTE Came with the simple signature "Ashamed."

"Dear Phat," it set out, "do you know why so many men who are not lawyers or big shot executives, carry brief cases? It's not because they have important papers to carry back and forth. It's because their wives neglected to buy them shirts with two pockets."

"AND WITH but one pocket they can't find a place for all of their junk, pencils, cagarets, glasses, et cetera."

"And they are, as I am, ashamed to carry a handbag as women do. So they cram all of that excess junk into a brief case and hie for the job."

"You'd be surprised to look into some of those brief cases!"

WELL, AS ABBY would write: "Dear Ashamed: — Carry your brief case bravely. The mess that's in it couldn't possibly be worse than the accumulation in a woman's handbag."

"Only, please don't, when you want a cigaret or facial tissue, dump the contents on the bar. Equip the brief case with a battery and bulb which lights up when you unzip the thing."

THE FOLLOWING is true but the names have been omitted to protect the guilty.

Seems a wife and her mate were a bit reckless in imbibing the other afternoon when he suddenly remembered he had to work on the night shift.

"O. K.," said the wife, "Then I guess I'll go to a movie." So she went to the Plaza and got in line.

TWENTY MINUTES later she made it — the front end of the line.

But it wasn't the ticket booth. It was the entrance to Louise's pantry.

The line into the Plaza theater was still long and to the right of her.

THE OTHER ITEM told me concerned the recent burglary of the Sportsman's Center on East Tahquitz. Police were investigating at around 5:30 a. m. when a citizen heard about it and decided to be helpful.

So he called Bob Howard of the Sportsman on East Andreas. "Hey," he asked, "Do you know the Sportsman has been broken into and robbed?"

HOWARD STARTED dressing in a hurry to get down to inspect the damage.

He was all set to rush out to the car and take off when the phone rang again.

"Ooops," said the caller, "Wrong Sportsman!" And hung up.

It's Only Sugar

The scene: Section 1, Row H, Seat 25. Las Vegas, Nev. Convention Center.

The time: Last weekend. (The price: $40.)

The cast of characters — well, it is my opinion that everybody at a prizefight is a character. Back to your corners and come out fighting!

The weather being promising (and Las Vegas no great distance), I flew down to see Mr. Sugar Ray Robinson and Mr. Gene Fullmer give each other their lumps. For honor, for glory and a split of $150,000 gate.

"They say Sugar Ray will not fight with 8-ounce gloves," said Mr. Joaquin Noriega darkly.

"What does he wish to fight with, Joaquin? Maybe .45 caliber pistols?"

Mr. Noriega is maitre d'hotel of the newly opened Sultan's Table at the Dunes where Sugar Ray presumably was pacing his room like a wildcat.

"He will fight only with 6-ounce gloves. Or the fight is off."

There is nothing more entertaining than watching sports writers whip themselves into poetic frenzy at these things.

Most of the pre-fight rumor was funneled into this plush dining palace. Where The Press sat in sylvan splendor, thinking up new leads of blood and slaughter.

"Sugar Ray will also not fight in a 16-foot ring," said Mr. Noriega panting up with the newest rumor.

Three sports writers turned white and went out to telephone. "May I have some more champagne?" I asked.

"Certainly, sir," said the maitre d'hotel. "They say Sugar Ray is like a tiger in his room."

"I hope they have him chained," I said. "Make that champagne blanc de blanc, will you?"

As a matter of fact, I do not see why they did not let them fight on the revolving stage of the Sultan's Table. There was some question in my mind whether this was a battle of the century. Or an entertainment feature to open the new room.

While rumor bubbled like champagne (and vice versa), we listened to Arturo Romero and his massed violins from the Villa Fontana in Mexico City.

An extra dividend for me. Since I have never been able to get a table at this Aztec tourist trap. There are always two tables available — if you have no reservations.

One is by the kitchen door. Where the waiters fall over you. The other is at the front door. Where the customers fall over you.

The new Dunes room is romantically "moonlight lighted." A fountain spouts colorfully against a tropical backdrop. And the violins, I must say, were excellent.

"Sugar Ray," said the maitre d., "is now clawing at the walls."

Two more sports writers arose and headed for the telephones. At the proper time of evening, as the western sun sank over the Sierra — and there's a sporty phrase for you. As all this happened so poetically, we took a taxi to the big convention center.

The hall was filled. And there were imploring shouts for Sugar Ray to "open up those cuts on his eyes, Sugar!"

Mr. Sugar Ray then obliged by spattering Mr. Fullmer with gore.

Mr. Fullmer obliged by sinking his right hand up to the wrist in the Sugar Ray derby kelly.

This total action of blood and thunder took 45 minutes. Enriching the pride of Harlem and the nice Mormon boy from Utah.

At which point, we taxied back to the potentate's dinner.

Dear Abby...

...by Abigail VanBuren

DEAR ABBY: I am sick of hearing the beefs about pointed shoes for women. The reason we sell so many is because you women must WANT them.
SHOE SALESMAN

DEAR SHOE SALESMAN: Please don't tell me what we women want. We take what we can get. I am convinced that the sack dress, those goofy mile-high hair-dos (that no woman can comb herself) and those hideous, pointed-toe shoes were designed by men who hate women and want to make them look as ridiculous as possible. If there is a national shoe manufacturer's association, please give me the address. I would like to send them all the mail I receive from women who protest the new style shoes. A letter (or postcard) to this column will help — and I lead all the rest.

DEAR ABBY: The woman who complained about pointed shoes is no doubt wearing cheap shoes. Also she is probably one of those peacocks who needs a size 8 B and fights with the shoe clerk to make him give her a 7 Double A. The new, pointed shoes are beautiful and comfortable when you get the proper fit.

SHOE MAN

DEAR ABBY: I am with you all the way in your campaign to get rid of those homely Wizard of Oz witches' shoes. I have a long and narrow foot, (nine) and you can imagine what my feet look like the new spring shoes. I refuse to wear gray shoes because they look like gun boats!

DEAR ABBY: In reply to "FOOTSORE AND WEARY" you said, "I have been told the women LOVE the new pointed-toe shoes." Please tell me EXACTLY WHO told you that women love these asinine, ridiculous, pointed atrocities?

AUGUSTA

GUN BOAT ANNIE

DEAR ABBY: My husband can tell you how much women suffer from pointed shoes — especially young girls whose feet are still developing. They are making themselves candidates for bunion surgery and a multitude of other foot disorders.

PODIATRIST'S WIFE

DEAR ABBY: The pointed toes are bad enough, but oh, those heels! I have to walk "tippee toe" so I won't get my heels caught in gratings, between cracks in the sidewalks, or even on shag carpets. Please, please help us get some sensible shoes before I break my neck.

TIPPEE TOE

DEAR ABBY: This will kill you! Now they have pointed-toe BOWLING SHOES! Abby, are they going crazy?

GOING BAREFOOT

DEAR AUGUSTA: Every shoe salesman to whom I complained.

DEAR ABBY: I beat the fashion experts and ruined my feet years ago when it was stylish to cram your foot into a pointed shoe. Now I wear leather moccasins just like the Indians did.

It is unfortunate that two fund drives are under way virtually at the same time in Palm Springs. However, since they are we will have to deal with the facts as accurately and objectively as possible.

It is brought to our attention that numbers of people are under the impression that the American Red Cross, Palm Springs Chapter, receives support from the Community Chest. This is not true. The Red Cross receives no such support, and has not for a considerable time. A rather widespread report, or belief to this effect, is said to be working to the disadvantage of the Red Cross Fund Drive, now in progress.

Reasons for the Red Cross withdrawal from the Chest, as explained by local R. C. officials, is that their agency was not receiving enough funds to do its job properly. This claim or explanation may be "open to debate," as they say. The SUN does not wish to be a party to this debate.

In the interest of accurate reporting, however, we are glad to correct the erroneous report that the Red Cross is or will receive any monies from the Community Chest.

Daily Sun

Editorials such as you have written in the past few months go far in recognizing the need for certain programs — and recognizing an organization or individual for a job well done.

My interest is in a job that has been done — without fanfare — for the past nine years. During the Desert Circus parade you may have noticed the peanut-selling Clowns.

These men — local professional and business men — started at eight a.m. and finished after midnight. Why? Sure — it's fun! The first hour or two but, then it gets tiresome, too. Primarily, they worked because the Community Chest program fell flat on its face last year — and they were resolved that it would not happen this year.

The Kiwanis Club of Palm Springs raised $628 for the Community Chest during the peanut sale and at the board of Directors meeting pledge $100 against 10 per cent of all future programs to be presented (such as the U. S. Navy Band program last October).

I hope you might see fit to "editorialize" this endeavor for two reasons — first — it will recognize Kiwanis' president Jim Crowe for his efforts and second — it will "jack-up" the efforts of the other service clubs for the Community Chest.

At this time — on the occasion of the 50th anniversary of the American Red Cross, it seems fitting that we should refresh our knowledge of the many services the Red Cross furnishes all Americans — specifically, to:

1. Our Armed Forces, round-the-world

2. Our Veterans and their families

3. Speedy Emergency Relief to disaster victims in every State of the Union

4. First Aid through training programs and Emergency Care for accident victims

5. Water Safety Services: widespread training in swimming, life-saving and operation of small craft

The Palm Springs membership campaign opened Monday, March 6.

Let's all join and contribute as much as we are able to the Palm Springs Chapter, American Red Cross, during this 50th Anniversary celebration and drive.

Chapter History Reviewed

At a luncheon meeting at the home of Mrs. Carrie Newton, Mrs. Marie Jay, one of the organizing members of Cahuilla Chapter D.A.R., reviewed Chapter history, telling how Mrs. Luvia Musladen, organizing Regent, and Mrs. Mabel Swart, in whose home the first meeting was held, and a group of 14 interested women formed Cahuilla Chapter ending the first year with 26 charter members. It was organized in January 31, 1948.

Reviewing some of the early history she named some of the persons who appeared on the programs, like Miss Katherine Finchy, Mrs. Garce Soong Line, Bill Hay, Lloyd Mason Smith, Florian Boyd, Rev. John Robertson Macartney, August G. Kettmann, and a number of state officials.

Honored guest at the meeting was Mrs. Margaret Montee of Los Angeles, and her daughter Mrs. Pauline Copass; Mrs. Helen Louise Edwards, Past Regent of Mojave Chapter D.A.R. of Fullerton; Dr. Evelyn Brisband, Past Regent of Santa Cruz Chapter; Mrs. Betty Wack of Evanston, Illinois and Mrs. Lulu Billings of St. Louis.

St. Patrick decorations by Mrs. Emily Williams, loaned by Pannellenic, were complemented by a floral centerpiece of white and pink stock, carnations and gladioli. Co-hostesses Mrs. Florence Bacon, Mrs. Emma Burkholder and Mrs. Eva Fromm, wore green and white aprons and caps, made by Mrs. Marie Brummer.

The luncheon menu included a salad, an egg and cheese casserole, rolls and cake, coffee and tea, and was served to 30 members and guests.

During the business session, which was conducted by the Regent Mrs. Florence Nitchy, a nominating committee was elected, composed of Mrs. Madalyn Ruskin, Mrs. Florence Bacon and Mrs. Eva Fromm.

A letter from Mamie Doud Eisenhower expressing regret that she was unable to attend this meeting, was read. Mrs. Eisenhower is a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Civil Defense Topic for Talk

The importance of Civil Defense preparedness was stressed when Bettie Lacy gave a report at the Tuesday meeting of the Sigma Gamma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi. Since this is Civil Defense month, Marta Scott, president, announced that the next meeting will be devoted to that topic.

Jane Dill spoke on "The Integrated Self."

The hostess, Mona Cameron, served cherry cream pie and coffee.

WHY... THE PALM SPRINGS HOME OWNERS LEAGUE ENDORSES THE AIRPORT ACQUISITION BONDS

1. Palm Springs must have an airport.
2. The economy of Palm Springs depends upon air transportation.
3. The airport basic facility "run ways" are in. It would cost in excess of One and a Half Million Dollars to duplicate what is now built in.
4. The City Council, by their Resolution No. 6165, dated February 1, 1961, agrees to place all revenues from the airport operation, leases, sub-leases, sales of land or easements or rebates to the city from the Federal Aid to Airport Act (54% of cost from Federal Funds) and above the operating expenses, construction costs, and airport land purchases to an AIRPORT BOND REDEMPTION FUND
5. The manner in which the Airport Program is set up, in our opinion, will enable it to operate at a profit and will, after the first three years, ACTUALLY REDUCE OUR TAXES
6. Our viewpoint and considered opinion is that every voter should vote "YES" on the Airport Acquisition Bonds.
7. Federal Aid Act (54% of cost) expires in August, 1961.

Games, Music, Mark Guest Entertainment

By RUTH STEINER

A number of houseguests have been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Ottar Roen the past few weeks. Here for two weeks was their old time friend, Merle Munson from Modesto, who was injured in a serious automobile accident a number of years ago and is now confined to a wheel chair. His nurse, Mrs. Patty Ickel accompanied him.

The Roen's son Vernon also of Modesto, came down and spent a few days with his parents before driving Munson and Mrs. Ickel home. Vernon is an accomplished guitarist, and song-fests were enjoyed by the group. Before leaving for home, Munson hosted a small dinner party at the Riviera hotel for the Roens. Included in his guests were Mrs. Julian Stiff and Mrs. Irwin Schuman. Last week guests of the Roens were Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Herler from San Jose who spent a week. Sunday Mr. and Mrs. William Moe from Vista drove down and with Ottar and Lydia Roen spent the afternoon enjoying the Angels ball game.

Winner

Former residents, Mr. and Mrs. Al Peterson who now reside in La Jolla, spent the weekend here visiting friends. They attended the Palm City ribbon cutting ceremony with Mrs. Margaret "Bunny" Ward and her houseguest, Audrey All-gower. After the ceremonies, Mrs. Ward hosted the three to lunch at the Firecliff San Souci. Congratulations are due to Bunny as she won a ribbon at the Indian Date Festival Fair for her paintings! Saturday her son, Owen Eddy, drove down from Downey to spend the day with her.

Three Sun Lodge Colony homes have been rented for two months by Jackson, Mich., visitors, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCone, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Seward and Mrs. Alice McCordy. Dr. and Mrs. Robert Morrey (she has the "Edith Morrey" shop) hosted these Michigan folk to the popular Sunday night buffet dinner at Thunderbird Country Club.

Mrs. Charlotte Stewart, well known here, returned to her home in San Diego after spending two weeks with Mrs. Bobbie Reichert and visiting friends. Mrs. Reichert returned home with her to spend the weekend.

Game Party

Competitive games, mainly shuffleboard and ping pong, preceded the Saturday night cocktail party hosted by Desert Patch manager, Mrs. June Bartholomew, who was assisted by her daughter, June Novak. Prizes were awarded the winners of the games, which were directed by Mr. Dave Annan. Blowing of a big horn gathered the group together to hear the announcement of the awards ably emceed by Mr. Annan. A lavish hot and cold hors d'oeuvre table was set up for the hungry game players and other guests.

'Sun' Observes Classified Week With Bargains

Celebrating National Want Ad Week, The Desert Sun is offering special rates on miscellaneous for-sale and house-hold-goods-for-sale classified ads, this week.

John C. Fitch, manager of The Desert Sun classified advertising department said that during the National observance ads in these classification will be carried for seven days at the four day rate.

"Classified advertising as it is known today," said Fitch, "is the oldest form of advertising. Its origin can be traced back more than 250 years to the early days of newspapers. It is the only advertising medium of the great masses where, for a low cost, the people who make up a community can make known to thousands their wishes, desires, wants and needs."

The special rates announced by Fitch will be effective through The Desert Sun classified advertising department from March 12 through March 18. Ads may be telephoned or placed in person.

IRS OFFERS TAX FORM AID FREE

WASHINGTON (UPI) — What's the best way to get good advice on your federal income tax? The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) will answer your questions without charge. Phone first. Many questions can be cleared up over the telephone.

You also can consult a lawyer, accountant or other qualified tax practitioner. That probably will cost you money (tax deductible next year). But you probably can get more time and attention from a private consultant than from an IRS agent. You also may find different agents give conflicting advice or interpretations of the rules. This is not uncommon in an area as complex as the federal income tax. If that happens your best bet might be to get outside advice, especially if a large sum is involved.

Watch out, however, for "experts" who promise in advance they can save you lots of money if only you let them do your return. Some are shysters.

THIS IS A BUSINESS PROPOSITION

... Everything Else Is Secondary

As business men, we feel that the Palm Springs Airport is an absolute necessity for this community and that the deal for its acquisition is a good, sound, practical business proposition for the city.

One of the important reasons we maintain homes in Palm Springs is the fact that Palm Springs has an airport and a good one. This makes it possible for us to fly in and out with a minimum of travel time. Thus, we can attend to our business affairs in our various locations, and still have our homes and relaxation in Palm Springs.

As a business proposition, it is good for us. As a business proposition for the community, it is not only good, it is, of vital necessity.

WORST IN 30 YEARS

Water Problem Termed Critical

SACRAMENTO — March 12 — Water conditions in most areas of California this year will be the most critical since 1931.

Director William E. Warne of the State Department of Water Resources said today, in releasing the department's second of four monthly water conditions reports, that "there is only about one chance in 25 that precipitation for the remainder of the year will be heavy enough to produce average runoff on a statewide basis." He said that south of the latitude of Sacramento the chances for an average runoff are much less. "Even with normal precipitation for the remainder of the season, runoff in the area south of Sacramento will be near a record low," Warne said.

In the San Joaquin Valley, he said, "there is a good chance that runoff this year will be comparable to that of 1924, the driest of record. Only in the Upper Sacramento Valley and North Coastal area will water supplies be anywhere near normal."

Shortage Seen
Warne pointed out that "unless precipitation for the remainder of the season is far above average, serious shortages or irrigation water may be expected throughout most of the state."

He said that "even where municipal water supplies are concerned, shortages may be expected where carry-over is inadequate and imported supplies are not available. This third consecutive year of below-average surface runoff will put increased demands upon ground water basins, resulting in further lowering of ground water levels."

A March and April runoff greater than the maximum of record would be required to achieve normal runoff in most areas of the state, according to department engineers.

Three Bad Years
Mr. Warne said that "this is the third consecutive dry year, with this one being the worst of the three." He added that "on the basis of records dating from 1900, these three years challenge the 1929-31 period as being the driest three consecutive years."

Forecasts include:
COLORADO DESERT: Precipitation, 50 per cent of normal; storage, 115 per cent of average; runoff of Colorado River near Grand Canyon, 80 per cent of average. Forecast is for 80 per cent of average runoff.

ENTIRE STATE: Precipitation, 75 per cent of normal; snowpack, 45 per cent of normal; storage, 85 per cent of average; runoff 75 per cent of average. Forecast is for 65 per cent of average water supply.

SOUTH COASTAL: Precipitation, 40 per cent of normal; storage, 90 per cent of average; runoff, 25 per cent of average. Forecast is for 25 per cent of average runoff.

Davis To Monrovia; Newman Named Here

Doak Davis, Palm Springs district manager for the California Water and Telephone Company for the past four years, has been placed in charge of all new construction and maintenance for the firm, it was announced today.

Davis, who will serve on the chief engineer's staff of the firm, will have company-wide responsibilities. He will be headquartered in Monrovia.

J. C. "Curt" Newman, former president of the Coachella Valley Telephone Company, has been appointed manager of the newly formed district and will have offices in both Palm Springs and Indio.

Eldon Burgess, presently commercial and traffic department superintendent, CV Company, will be in charge of all commercial activities in the District Palm Springs and Indio and will be assisted by J. W. Baple.

Merger Asked
An application for approval of the merger of the California Water & Telephone Company and the Coachella Valley Telephone Company has been filed with the Public Utilities Commission, B. C. Probasco, Division Manager, California Water & Telephone Company, announced today.

This follows previous P. U. C. approval of acquisition by the CW&T Company of the outstanding stock of the Coachella Valley Telephone Company. Such acquisition having been completed on December 31, 1960.

The purpose of the merger is to include the Coachella Valley Telephone Company plant facilities in as a part of the CW&T Company's present Palm Springs District to obtain maximum operating efficiency, Probasco stated.

State Tax File Due From New Residents Here

Thousands of newcomers who moved to California during 1960 were reminded today by the State Franchise Tax Board that they must file California income tax returns.

Persons moving to California are generally considered residents of the State for tax purposes when they arrive. Subsequently, their entire income after arrival is taxable.

However, members of the armed forces who move to this state under military orders do not become residents by reason of their transfer here.

Returns for 1960 must be filed by single individuals whose net income was $1,500 or more and by married couples whose combined net income was $3,000 or more.

Liz to Leave London for Recuperation

LONDON — IM — Elizabeth Taylor's recovery from her near-fatal bout with pneumonia had reached the point today where she was reported planning to take her to California or the French Riviera for recuperation.

Doctors attending the 29-year-old movie star were expected shortly to give Fisher some indication on when Miss Taylor will be well enough to leave the London clinic where she was taken near death a week ago Saturday.

Miss Taylor's recovery from the deadly staphylococcus pneumonia was hailed as a "miracle" by Fisher, who admitted that his hope for her survival had "faltered" at one point. Miss Taylor twice was reported on the brink of death but fought back each time.

Sunday, Fisher reported his wife was able to sit up in bed "on her own." The breathing tube inserted in her throat in emergency surgery nine days ago was removed. She sucked on an orange—the first solid food since her hospitalization.

Can't Believe It
Fisher said Miss Taylor was in good humor. Doctors allowed flowers in her yellow-walled room for the first time. He said she felt "lucky and very grateful."

"She still can't believe a lot of what happened to her," Fisher said. "I've been trying to explain it to her."

An indication of Miss Taylor's progress was the fact that Fisher was impatient to bring her three children to see their mother for the first time since March 4. The children, two boys by her marriage to Broadway producer Mike Todd, have been waiting at her hotel suite.

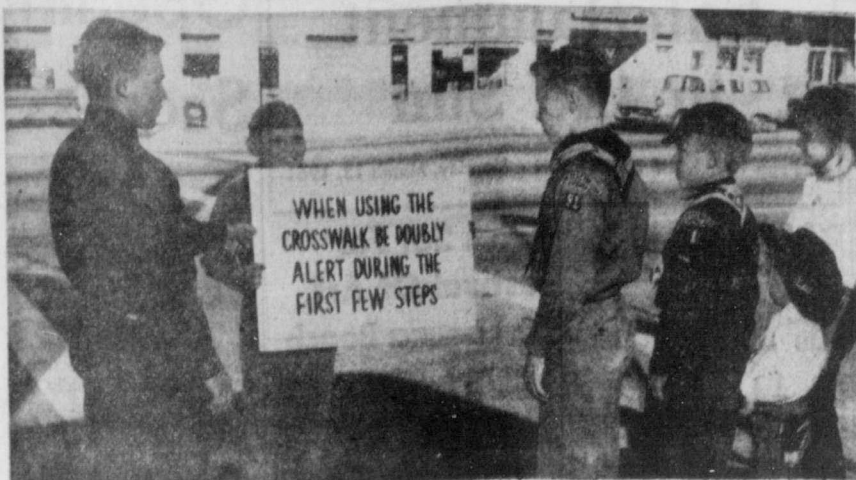

Fisher wanted to bring the children Sunday but was overruled by the doctors. He said he was "sure" they would be permitted to see her sometime this week.

LINDA DARNELL HERE FOR A SHORT VACATION

Linda Darnell planed into Palm Springs Airport here late Friday for a short vacation from her recent show tour and promptly started work on a brand new act—with youthful Bob Newkirk.

The Darnell-Newkirk team immediately closeted themselves in the Desert Skies Hotel with a team of writers for preliminary sessions on the new act. Newkirk, currently starred in the Hilltop Room here, met Miss Darnell at the local airport.

Miss Darnell and her husband, producer Robbie Robertson, were piloted to Palm Springs in a spanking-new Cessna 310F, darling of the businessman set, by Santa Monica sportsman Robert F. Gunnell, president of Gunnell Aviation Inc.

Cagney about the exact content of the new act, Miss Darnell said simply that the new arrangement would be "unique."

"The material will be highly specialized," she said.

"We're already lining up appearances in Greece, Paris and London," said Robertson.

Miss Darnell revealed that the pact which combines Newkirk's vocal versatility with her own talents was executed a week ago.

"We're going to tell the world about it," she said, "and it might as well be now."

She had high praise for Newkirk, who ends a standing room only six-weeks engagement in the Hilltop Room on Tuesday.

"He's the kind of entertainer who can make my act go," she said. "He's a real showman. I want to see him get where he's going fast as I can help him get there."

Sheriff Tells Of Radio Code

"412 10-8 Beat 3-A" — "412 10-8 Beat 3-A, investigate 459, 19345 Geary Road" — "10-4 KA 5021" — KMA 880."

This is a part of the language of law enforcement, says Sheriff Joe Rice, to interpret this radio conversation which may appear meaningless to the uninitiated — a law enforcement patrol unit, Number 412, called in service, ready for assignments in Beat 3-A, which is a geographical area of a city or county Rice explained.

The dispatcher acknowledged the patrol unit and instructed him to proceed to 19345 Geary Road to investigate a burglary, which is noted in the California Penal Code as Section 459.

There are many good reasons for this type of code, Rice said. The most important is that many years ago officers would acknowledge a message with "Yes," "Will do," "OK," or "Assignment received."

You can readily see that there is a chance of misunderstanding over the air and transmissions usually are much more complex than the example cited. Radio is the officer's lifeline and he is trying to conserve its use by avoiding lengthy messages.

A criminal division in law enforcement deals with such terms as "modus operandi," which means method of operation, and "corpus delicti." "Corpus delicti" does not mean a corpse but is a latin term meaning "body of the crime."

British Explain Weather

By HARRY FERGUSON
United Press International
LONDON — Sir William Mabane is a gifted knight charged by the Crown with the duty of explaining the British weather and then explaining it. As the new head of the National Tourist Agency, he calls upon reporters to explain to Americans that is nothing but a preposterous legend that over here it is rainy, foggy and cloudy all the time.

This correspondent hastens to comply with Sir William's trumpet call to journalistic objectivity and opens the campaign by quoting the good knight himself: "British weather isn't bad it is merely extremely interesting. It is not true that it is always raining, cloudy or foggy, but even if it were what would be more romantic than mists on the Scottish moor or a quick succession of soft showers and brilliant sunshine in the Lake District?"

Next we turn to the front page of the London Evening Standard: Foggy Doings

"London airport was brought to a standstill by fog which cut visibility to 100 yards today. At Gatwick Airport visibility on the runway was down to 15 yards. In the Thames Estuary fog held up the British liner Kenya from East Africa. She was one of a small fleet of ships which had to anchor hurriedly."

Sir William is absolutely correct that it does not rain all the time. Britain occasionally has what are called "bright intervals" and they have been known to last for as long as ten minutes. This had made the British experts in an outdoor sport known as "sheltering." When it rains, you rush for the nearest doorway and "shelter." In an average day you can figure on "sheltering" three times.

In considering the weather Sir William probably prefers to look to the future and forget the dead past, but there has just been thrust into the hand of this correspondent a dispatch from the London Daily Telegraph: "The period from July to November last year was the wettest for more than 200 years over England and Wales. There was no spell of fine, warm days in the five months."

'Radio Liberty' Beams Freedom To USSR Despite Red Jamming Effort

By J. SPENCER GRAY
(Written for UPI)

MUNICH, Germany — Through the long hours of the night I watched the "courageous democracy" relentlessly carrying on their tasks.

They are the newscasters, the special guests from a wide array of professions, the writers and the technicians who comprise Task Force Radio Liberty—as vital a force as any which fights for the West in the Cold War.

Twenty-four hours a day Radio Liberty is on the air, broadcasting to untold millions within the Soviet Union — the only contact for most Russians with the world of truth and fact.

From London, Paris, New Delhi, Rome, Tokyo, New York, Hong Kong and major news centers, the uncensored stories of international developments in all areas are beamed to every part of the Soviet Union.

Angered and embittered at the success of Radio Liberty in reaching within their borders, Soviet bosses have ordered their technicians to step up their efforts to jam the broadcasts from the West.

But technology and the laws of physics are on the side of the West, and despite the best efforts of the frustrated Communists, the truth gets through.

There is clear evidence that Radio Liberty's audience has been increasing steadily ever since this privately financed undertaking was launched March 1, 1953.

Letters spirited out of the Soviet Union under hazardous circumstances attest to the crucial role being played by the remarkable radio network.

I did not appreciate what a fabulous undertaking Radio Liberty really is until I spent several days observing its operations — from sub-surface library to control tower top — at the Radio Liberty nerve center, housed in an old airport building on the outskirts of Munich.

I watched with amazement as a long succession of specially trained technicians, researchers and broadcasters, as well as leaders in the worlds of statesmanship, scholarship and culture, worked at the controls and took their places before the Radio Liberty microphones in Munich to carefully direct the messages through the Iron Curtain into every section of the Soviet Union.

Radio Liberty broadcasts world news 332 times daily, with never a sign-off period, in 17 different languages, ranging from Byelorussian to Ukrainian to the non-Slavic languages, and on 19 different frequencies.

In addition, Radio Liberty gives persons of many professions and points of view an opportunity to make their views known inside the Soviet Union through interviews, talks, and discussion programs.

The emigre staff is a veritable "Who's Who" of former Soviet officials, professional men and cultural leaders — Razhden Arsenidze, former minister of justice in Georgia; Ivan Bahiranyan, Ukrainian author; George Denicke, formerly a professor at the University of Moscow; Prof. George V. Stackleberg, a leading orientalist; Boris Zaitseff, former chairman of the Union of Moscow Writers, and Veli Zunnun, former news director for Tashkent Radio.

The Soviet government has about five times as many jamming stations on Radio Liberty frequencies as Radio Liberty has transmitters to send out its programs.

Numberous prominent Americans are among those who lend financial and other support to Radio Liberty.

The Arkansas Civil Air Patrol has 24 squadrons and 600 cadets.

Fifth Science Fair Scheduled For March 21

Numerous exhibits entered by Palm Springs High School students will be among the hundreds on display March 21 - 24, dates of the Fifth Annual Inland Science Fair sponsored by the Industry-Education Council of San Bernardino and Riverside counties.

The big show, slated for Swing Auditorium on the National Orange Show grounds, in San Bernardino, will be free to the public.

Visitation hours are 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Tuesday through Thursday and 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Friday, March 24. Major awards will be presented at a special program Tuesday night.

The auditorium will house several hundred exhibits, many the result of long continued research and work by students both in the classroom and at home.

The young "do-it-yourself" scientists will vie for a wide variety of prizes and special awards. To sweepstakes winners in the senior division, one boy and one girl, will go on an expense-paid trip and the right to exhibit in the National Science Fair to be held in Kansas City, Mo.

Division winners are in line for cash prizes, ribbons and certificates. Among special prizes are Air Force citations, a five-day Navy cruise, summer science institute tuition and living costs along with innumerable scholarship recommendations and donations.

Arrangements for the fair are made in turn by Riverside and San Bernardino school centers working with the IEC. Host this year is the San Bernardino county school system under Superintendent Roy C. Hill.

Dates Set For Festival Of Art At Laguna Beach

This year's nationally famous Festival of Arts at Laguna Beach will start Saturday July 15, to Sunday, August 13.

Preparations are already underway for the 26th annual showing of a program of 24 "Living pictures and sculpture" from a selected group of masters and contemporary art subjects, works of World famous artists.

Due to the tremendous demand for reserved seats the Festival management is prepared to accept mail orders well in advance of previous years and are now processing mail orders from all parts of the country. Many of these orders are for groups traveling some distance by bus and from corporations for their employees.

Annually some 100,000 tourists attend this art spectacle from all over the United States, Canada and foreign countries.

Opening Damone Scores Triumph

An apparently relaxed Vic Damone came out on the Chi Chi stage for his opener last night after a 40 minute delay in the opener for sound-system problems, a 40 carried the audience away.

Damone, who had to flee to Los Angeles this morning for movie work, as he will for the first three days of his stay, finally had to leave an audience that was thundering for more after an hour of solid singing.

There was no thundering during Damone's work. With music ranging from a tenderly done "Maria," to a plaintive "September Song," the young-old maestro of the night club, movie and teevee circuit had it going his way.

Backed by Joe Parnello, who was making his first run as both accompanist and band director of Damone, the star left an impression of singing for expression.

For the first 20 minutes of the show, Damone concentrated on singing. He played the audience informally — tossed in a few lyric lines now and ten just for kicks. Once he took the microphone, even with a playback echo on mike, there were no complaints.

Damone gained laughter when he explained he had shaved his legs for a pilot teevee film for key.

"Some Like It Hot." It itched, he said. "Bewitched, Bothered, and Bewildered" got the soft and the jump treatment. The Damone version of "Come Rain or Come Shine" was strictly hip. It strictly brought down the house.

The Damone segment used some ornate sounds that appeared incidental. But as the program developed, it was obviously a display of musicianship. With smooth coordination between singer and backing, the music started and stopped at will. It was a display of flawless familiarity.

Opener for the bill was a frenetically drilled Lon Fontaine Trio. Fontaine had trouble with a dead mike in a supercharged song-dance number, but played on cue for both shows.

Wally Brown, stage and television comic who has seen a wide variety of movie work, completed the billing.

Problems Result From Exclusion Of Religion In Public Schools

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

Nearly a century ago, a Princeton theologian, the Rev. Dr. A. A. Hodge, predicted that the U. S. public school system would eventually become "the most efficient instrument for the propagation of atheism which the world has ever seen."

"If every party in the state has the right of excluding from the public schools whatever he does not believe to be true," reasoned Dr. Hodge, "then he that believes most must give way to him that believes least, and he that believes least must give way to him that believes absolutely nothing, no matter in how small a minority the atheists and agnostics may be."

Dr. Hodge may have overstated the case a bit. Few people today would accuse the public schools of deliberately "propagating atheism."

But neither are they propagating belief in God. The process of excluding religion from public education has been taking place inexorably, just as Dr. Hodge prophesied. In recent years, a succession of court rulings has made it virtually impossible for public schools even to acknowledge the existence of a Supreme Being.

Dawns On Parents
The full implications of this fact are only beginning to dawn on millions of American parents, who have grown accustomed to depending on public schools to teach their children everything they need to know, from how to brush their teeth to how to drive a car.

These parents must now realize that they have only two alternatives if they want their children to learn about God.

The first alternative is to arrange an adequate program of religious education for each child, outside of school hours.

Sending a child to Sunday School is not an adequate program of religious education. Any Sunday School teacher will testify that very little systematic religious instruction can be accomplished in a class which meets for one hour a week, or less, and for which little or no homework is done.

If a child is to learn the basic concepts of a religious faith, Sunday School must be supplemented by a great deal of teaching and reading at home, or by a more extensive training program under church auspices, or ideally, by both.

Use Released Time
In some communities, churches now provide so-called "released time" religious classes, conducted by professional teachers, the name comes from the fact that children are released from public school, at stated periods during the week, to attend these classes.

The Supreme Court has upheld the constitutionality of this arrangement, provided the classes are conducted off public school property. But only a relatively small fraction of America's public school children — fewer than 1 per cent — are now enrolled in such programs.

Churches offer a variety of other ways in which children may receive a religious education comparable in quality and intensity to the training they get in, for example, biology or home economics.

Weekend religious schools, with all-day programs, are available to many Jewish and Roman Catholic children who attend public schools. Protestant churches offer "Vacation Bible Schools" and summer camps at which children may receive systematic religious training during public school holidays.

Have Second Choice
The second alternative open to parents is to pass up the public schools and send their children to church-sponsored private schools which are free to teach religious values and concepts along with reading, writing and arithmetic.

This is usually thought of as a "Catholic solution," and it is true that Catholic parents send more children (5.5 million) to private schools than any other group in the population.

But Catholics have never had a monopoly on the idea. Episcopalians and Lutherans have always maintained fairly substantial systems of schools.

Angels Win Openers Before SRO Crowds

Angels Score 12-5 Sunday After 8-3 Opening Victory

PENSIVE Bob "Horse" Reynolds, co-owner of the Los Angeles Angels with Gene Autry, looks thoughtfully Sunday in the one of moments his boys were winging ahead so obviously. (P. S. NewsPhoto)

Estimated 8,500 See Angels Sing Victory Song in Power Debut

The Los Angeles Angels made their debut this weekend at the Polo Grounds ballpark, with a pair of wins over P. K. Wrigley's Chicago Cubs that left the new American League squad heroes in their adopted Palm Springs home. It just wasn't Bobby Adams day yesterday at the Polo Grounds! One of eight coach-managers who pilot the Chicago Cubs, Bobby had the misfortune of having his number for "manager of the Day" come up.

THE ANGELS spoiled his debut by a score of 12-5.

Dick Drott, apparently recovered from the sore arm that turned out a 9-6 record last season, got into trouble in the first inning. After the Cubs failed to score in the top half, Eddie Yost capitalized on his specialty and walked. Ken Aspromonte then looped one into left for a single. He was followed by luck as J. C. Hartman booted Boh Cerv's double play ball and Yost came all the way. Aspromonte reached third, and with his third straight hit, "Big Klu" — Ted Kluszewski, drove Aspromonte home to put the Angels out in front 2-0.

Ted Bowsfield, broke sharp curves the first two innings, but the left-hander seemed to lose some steam during the third. His fate was saved by Del Rice's sharp pickoff that kept the Cubs from making a track meet at home plate. Drott had opened the inning with a single. He stopped at second on Richie Ashburn's hit to left. On the next pitch, Rice picked Drott off.

BOWSFIELD was still in trouble and after walking J. C. Hartman and Sam Drake, Manager Bill Rigney had a mound talk with him. Apparently it helped, because Ted straightened out, permitting but one more tally on Frank Thomas' infield out.

After being hitless for six straight times, Bob Cerv made it 3-1 for the Angels when he lifted one of Drott's offerings over the left field fence.

In the fourth, Rookie Aubrey Gatewood made his debut and after a shaky start, the 22 year old right-hander from Little Rock, Ark., settled down to deliver a creditable performance.

TAKING their cue from the rookie, the Angels racked up 4 runs in the inning to go out in front 7-2. They picked up another in the fifth, matched a scoreless inning with the Chicagoans in the sixth, and roared back with another four runs in the seventh.

The eighth saw both clubs go scoreless and the run that Chicago picked up in the ninth left the Angels caring less. The ball game was over and the home towners had it in the bag 12-5 on 10 hits with one error. The Windy City crew poled 9 hits, gave up 4 errors, and netted 5 runs.

The infant Angels, formed into the American League about two months ago, came out strongly Saturday before a turnaway crowd of 5,000, to cuff the Cubs 8-3.

The Cubs, late in arriving from Chicago, took to the field about 2:30 p.m. for a slated 1:30 session. Big Ted Kluszewski opened the Angel's edge in the second when he belted a run 370 feet over the right fence.

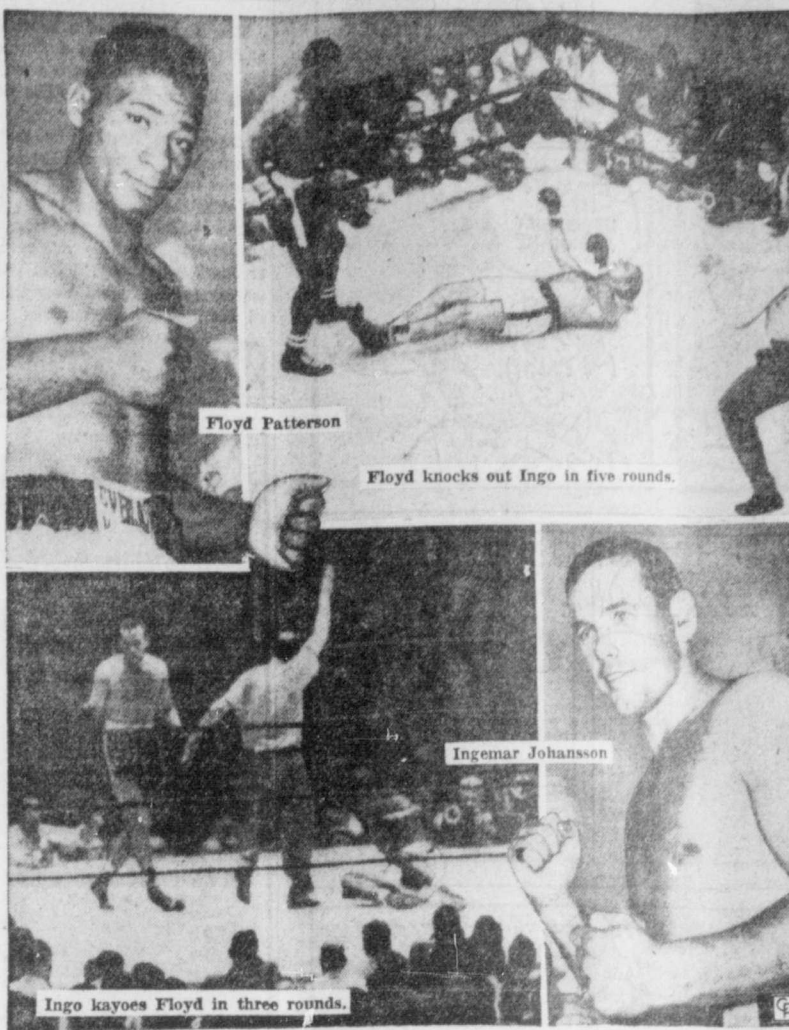

The Cubs fought it to a 3-3 in the fourth. When Angel hurler Jack Harshman suffered the only Cub stick blasts of the session, Harshman rallied to be credited with the win. Cleveland was credited with a major assist.

The Angel's gained ground in the seventh when they rolled it 6-3 and capped the eighth with two more.

Scribes Predict Patterson Win

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (U) — After making sure that Ingemar Johansson wasn't in hearing distance, lion-hearted boxing writers today cast a solid vote for Floyd Patterson to retain his heavyweight title.

Nineteen newsmen picked Patterson and four chose the Swede, with everyone predicting a knockout.

WHOSE TURN will it be tonight? Ingemar Johansson and Floyd Patterson meet tonight in Miami Beach for the world's heavyweight diamond belt. Each has knocked out the other once. In their first fistic meet, Ingo floored Patterson in three rounds. In their second, Floyd put Ingo away in the fifth.

Patterson Favored 18-5

Heavyweight Victory Is Predicted By Floyd, Ingo

Two confident heavyweights go into the ring at Miami Beach tonight, both predicting victory, but with Floyd Patterson given heavy 18-5 odds to beat Ingemar Johansson in their third match.

Patterson wrote in an UPI exclusive: "I WILL win. 'I will win because I don't underestimate myself or Ingemar Johansson this time. 'If it's necessary, I will get off the floor to win.'"

Behind him, Patterson had the experience of losing his title once to the Swedish right-hander, and coming back last year to be the

Invitational Golf Has Low 67 Score

Ralph Jones carded six birdies and three bogies to tally a 35-32 67 for the low gross Sunday in the first 18 holes of the 25th Invitational Golf Championship.

The card, which placed Jones in the lead, was his best of the year.

HOAGY Carmichael, who had taken a drubbing from Slamming Sammy Sneed on Celebrity Golf a couple weeks back, rallied nicely for a 35-34 69. Carmichael, representing the Thunderbird banner, carried an 11 handicap.

Earl Thompson, Thunderbird, captured third gross with a 34-36 tally of 70.

IN THE 15-24 handicap category, Earl Moss, of Wilshire Country Club, tied with Ray Jones, Thunderbird, with 75. Moss had 39-36, Jones 37-38.

Rea L. Eaton, O'Donnell, Sanford Mos, Riviera, and Harold McAlister, Los Angeles Country Club, each carded 78. For Eaton, it was 38-40; Mosk 39-39, and McAlister 41-37.

Best ball foursome honors went to Tom Lowry, O'Donnell, Mosk, Dr. R. L. Smith, F. D. Rua, Riviera, with 50, in group one. A net 50 was scored by Chase Carfield, O'Donnell, Earl Moss, Wilshire, Dr. Carl Rusche, Wilshire, and Karl Romie, Los Gatos for group two.

Angels Tour Arizona
The victory-primed Angels flew to Phoenix today to make a six-day stand in the Copper State's Grapefruit League.

They meet the Cubs again in Mesa Tuesday, Cleveland in Tucson Thursday and Bosox in Scottsdale Friday.

The Cubs get a repeat in Mesa Saturday and Sunday. The Angels return home here Monday for Boston.

10th Annual At Tamarisk Goes To Bash-Schwab

A four hole playoff gained a 181 net score victory in the Saturday-Sunday 10th Annual Member-Guest tourney at Tamarisk Country Club for John Bash and Don Schwab, when they edge Dave Slatin and Hal Foster.

Slatin and Foster both had out-of-bounds troubles on the fourth hole of the four hole playoff to lose the cliff-hanger with a 181 card, on the 54 holes.

Third spot in the net was the 183 tally of Max Freeman and Dr. C. Agness.

Milton Karahdian and Jack Sargent took low gross honors with 209 for the rout three times around the 18 holes. Second place net gross went to Ed Richards and Al Katz on 213.

Third low gross was Tom Endicott and Art Williams, at 213. A field of 115 twosomes made the tourney under clear skies, with a full gallery looking on.

Bolt Firms For 72 Hole Victory In Pensacola

By JACK McDAVITT JR.
United Press International
PENSACOLA, Fla. (U) — Tommy Bolt credited consistency and self control today with bringing him his first major golf victory since last summer — the sixth annual $20,000 Pensacola PGA Open.

"Consistent play from the tee to the green, that's what did it," Bolt said, describing 72 holes of play that saw him miss only one fairway and hit 61 of 72 greens to walk out with a check for $2,800 and a 72-hole total of 275 Sunday.

THE 42-YEAR old Bolt carded only six bogies throughout the four days of play—four on the opening round and two in the windup. In fact, the Crystal River, Fla., pro went for 46 holes without a miscue, right up to the ninth hole on the last round.

Self control also marked Tommy's play here. "I kept myself under control all the time. I was never too worried," he said, even though South Africa's Gary Player, whom Arnold Palmer calls one of the finest foreign golfers on the circuit today, was pressing close at his heels throughout the final round.

PLAYER'S second-place money, $1,900, put him ahead of Palmer in the prize department for the year. Player now has won $19,904 on the circuit to Palmer's $18,957. "I played real well, I didn't miss a green," the Johannesburg, South Africa, star said of his final round.

AGILE EARLY WYNN shows he can still bend at 41, as the White Sox hurler, oldest active in the American League, unlimbers at Sarasota, Fla., as rookies gaped. (UPI Photo)
